Girls.

By Helen Ekin Starrett, in The Forum

"Thousands who are now in shops and other organized industries would really prefer work in homes if only the heavy, grimy malodorous, clothes destroying work of cooking and laundering were not required and expected of them"

Well—if this is true there's a good time coming for girls and the mistress too, for women (by millions) are coming to know, that Pearline saves the clothes on your back as well as the clothes in the wash, the paint on your walls—the sheen of silver—the lustre of glass and reduces the labor, drudgery—health breaking—temper and comfort wearing work of washing and cleaning to almost nothing.

Besides the girl—the mistress—or both—are better suited with the results. It cleanses—restores original colors—but hurts nothing not even delicate skin—luxurious for bathing among the bright ones and use Pearline.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, this is as good as or the same as Pearline IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. JAMES PYLE New York

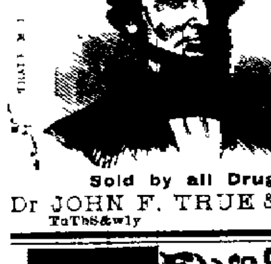
TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR!

A Wonderful Remedy! Marvelous in its Effects!

Mothers save your children from the annoying and fatal effects of pin worms, by giving

DR. JOHN F. TRUE'S PIN WORM ELIXIR!

A GREAT DISCOVERY.



It is claimed to be the safest, most potent and most effectual remedy known for this child killing disease. As a cathartic vermifuge it has no equal. It expels all kinds of worms, and in fact all living creatures that infest the bowels of suffering humanity, are triumphantly expelled by this truly wonderful remedy. Testimony in its favor comes in from all sections where it is known. It not only effectually removes from the system these troublesome and disagreeable worms, but children who have been weak and puny for years, are at once improved and restored to health by its use. Being a mild and gentle laxative it is a corrective of the greatest value. It is purely vegetable and cannot be beat. It has also expelled several lizards. One eight inches in length is spotted, belongs to the water species and looks like a veritable young alligator. Fits caused by worms and indigestion.

Two Men Expelled for Sending the Government a Petition.

Jewish Boy Branded with "Thief" for a Slight Offence.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 16 The Rabbi Markus and a Jewish physician, living in Grodno, have been arrested and exiled from that province for two years for sending to the government, in behalf of the Jewish community, a petition demanding redress for an outrage committed by a Russian doctor, who was charged with having branded the word "thief" in three languages upon the forehead of a Jewish boy accused of having stolen a small quantity of fruit.

EULOGIES OF GEN. SHERMAN

By the London Newspapers—His Fame Free from Reproach.

LONDON, Feb 16 The London newspapers this morning all contain long obituaries eulogistic of Gen Sherman

The Times says his death removes one of the greatest heroes of a great war, and impoverishes the world's stock of military genius and renown

The Standard says Refusing to be drawn into the mire of politics, Gen Sherman enjoyed the esteem of all parties and died without a stain upon the lustre of his arms, as free from reproach as from fear.

BURIED UNDER THE DEBRIS.

Two Lives Reported Lost in a Disastrous Fire.

SEATTLE, Wash, Feb. 16 A special from New Westminster, B. C, says that city was visited by a conflagration yesterday which destroyed $500,000 worth of property John McCannon, a member of the fire brigade was buried under a mass of brick and killed. Another man is reported to be buried in the ruins.

WAS HE THE MURDERER?

The Latest Whitechapel Case Being Heard in Court

LONDON, Feb 17. The police say that the circumstances surrounding the arrest of the man Sadler strongly tend to prove him to be the murderer of "Carrotty Nell," the last Whitechapel victim The Stepney police station, where he is detained, was this morning surrounded by a vast crowd, mostly women who uttered wild threats of lynching and tearing the prisoner to pieces When he was removed to the police court an immense force of police was employed to keep the mob from doing him harm.

The Prisoner

was placed in the dock this afternoon. His face was dirty and scratched He seems utterly careless as to what happens to him and is apparently entirely composed He kept his hands in his pockets and glanced calmly around him as if he was a disinterested spectator of the proceedings.

During the course of the prisoner's examination a man testified to the fact that he had seen Sadler in company with the murdered girl Thursday night. As the witness was the prisoner watched him sharply and suddenly exclaimed, addressing the man in the witness box "Be careful about what you are saying."

Continuing, witness described in detail the visit of Sadler to a small coffee shop. Sadler, according to this witness, sat in the coffee shop with the murdered girl and seemed to be quarreling with her. Sadler, the witness said, claimed to have been robbed. Finally Sadler and "Carrotty Nell" left the coffee shop separately

DID NOT OPEN

Affairs of the National Bank, of Ayer Mass

AYER, Mass, Feb. 16. The National Bank did not open this morning according to expectation. President Atwood says "We will open as soon as we get permission from the Government. We are already and will pay all protested checks with cost of protest. I see by the papers that I am said to have lost heavily in speculation and that the matter has been talked over at a directors' meeting. Both statements are absolutely false. I have not bought a share of stock in five years except the stock of this bank. What money I had to invest went into this bank only. We expect permission to open at any moment."

Emma L Kelley will act as temporary cashier

NEWSPAPER SUSPENDED

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 16 Nicholas Staub, Democratic candidates for Comptroller, took the office to-day. Chief Clerk Moore turned it over to him on his demand this noon on receiving a certificate that he took the oath of office January 13th. This is the oath taken in the Senate chamber before the House declaration.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

A Schooner Ashore.

CHATHAM, Mass., Feb. 16. An unknown three-masted schooner was discovered ashore on Handkerchief Shoal this morning by Capt. Tuttle's life saving patrol at Monomoy, with colors in rigging for assistance; it is very rough out there and a terrific northwest gale prevails. Capt. Tuttle and crew have started out to attempt to rescue the crew.

Vessel Identified.

HIGHLAND LIGHT, Mass., Feb. 16. The schooner reported this morning as ashore on Handkerchief Shoal is the Florida, St. John for a southern port with lumber. She will probably be a total loss.

CRASHED INTO A TRAIN.

Fearful Effects of a Land Slide, Caused by the Rains.

Huge Rock Kills and Injures Several Passengers.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb 16. A land slide occurred on Duquesne heights about 8.50 this morning and a big rock, weighing 200 pounds, fell from the heights and crashed into a passenger coach of the Washington express on the Pan Handle Railroad, which was passing at the moment.

Miss Cara Fleming, aged 19, was instantly killed, J. F Donohue, aged 30, Miss Mamie Baldwin, aged 18, and an unknown young man were seriously injured

The land slide was caused by the recent continuous rains.

LARGE SUM INVOLVED

In the Case of an Alleged Infringement of Patent.

BOSTON, Feb 16 Between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000 is the amount involved in the suit in which Judge Colt gave a hearing this morning in the United States Circuit Court

The case is that of Charles Head, administrator of the estate of William Sinoot, vs. Samuel W. Porter, who is an armorer at the Springfield Armory. The claim of the plaintiff is that the United States Government which is that defendant, has for many years been infringing upon the patent belonging to plaintiff granted for a device for ejecting cartridges and used in the manufacture of Springfield rifles

The suit was brought in 1880 but had laid on file of the court The United States Attorney holds that this is an action in tort and that no such suit can be maintained in a Circuit or District Court, because it was brought in 1880 and the act of Congress giving the parties the right to sue in a Circuit Court was not passed until 1887.

STRUCK BY FALLING BRICKS.

A Boy Injured and Several People Have Narrow Escapes.

HAVERHILL, Mass Feb. 16 This afternoon a portion of the front wall of the three story brick building at the corner of Winter and Lock streets suddenly fell to the sidewalk a distance of twenty-five feet.

A boy was struck and injured by the falling bricks Three other persons passing, narrowly escaped being killed.

The accident was probably caused by frozen mortar

THE SILVER POOL.

Testimony Continued Before the Committee in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. At the meeting of the silver pool investigating committee to-day, ex Representative S. V White, of New York, was examined He was asked concerning the testimony given by Representative Abner Taylor to the effect that he bought silver on margin through his firm, July 17th last, a few days after the passage of the act.

He said Taylor's testimony was accurate. The firm had very few accounts with members of Congress on its books. He had never solicited from any member of Congress, government employ or resident of Washington in his life. The firm never bought silver for any Congressman than Taylor nor for any Senator or other government employe. White knew nothing of the alleged silver pool, except what he had Seen in the Newspapers.

White testified in response to further questions that Hedenberg, a previous witness, must have misunderstood what his (White's) partner, Hopkins, said to him (Hedenberg) or he would not have testified that the witness' firm had an agent in Washington, for the reason that the firm never had any agent in Washington, directly or indirectly. White further stated that he had examined the accounts of every member of Congress, Senator and government employe that had any dealings with the firm before he came to Washington and said it showed not a dollar on account of any person connected with the government, except Representative Taylor, for the purchase or sale of silver.

H James, has been sold to Mr. George W Patten, of this city, and he took possession yesterday The business of taking account of stock is now on hand and as soon as this is finished the money which will make Mr. Patten the owner of this enterprise will be paid over

SAVORS STRONGLY OF FISH. The year, thus far, has seemed to be intent on showing to the inhabitants of this sphere what sudden changes nature may inflict upon us. A story which savors strongly of fish and one which certainly gives an idea of the sudden changes, was told in Brewer the other day, but we give it as it came to us and do not vouch for its truth One of our local fishermen went to an out lying pond a few days ago, intending to return at a certain time. As he did not return some of his friends made inquiries as to his continued absence and were told that he had not been home, but that they had had a report of his luck The report stated that the trout were coming up through the hole in the ice so fast that he put his hat over the hole to keep them in the water and a sudden cold wave coming, it was frozen down At last accounts he was waiting for a thaw to release his hat and allow him to come home and exhibit his catch

Obituary

Our Eddington correspondent writes, in regard to the death of Mr Alonzo Comins, which was reported in THE WHIG, as follows

Mr. Alonzo B. Comins died very suddenly of neuralgia of the heart at his home in Eddington, Tuesday night, and the sad event was received with sorrow by his many friends in this vicinity. Mr Comins was born in Eddington and was sixty-one years and five months old. He was highly respected by all who knew him and few men will be missed more than he

He leaves a widow, four sons and two daughters to mourn the loss of a kind husband and loving father, and they have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement. The funeral occurred on Friday and was largely attended, Rev E. F. Pember of Bangor officiating.

From Joy to Mourning.

HAWAIIAN PEOPLE TURN OUT TO RECEIVE THEIR RETURNING SOVEREIGN ONLY TO FIND THAT HE IS DEAD—EMBLEMS OF JOY CHANGED TO DRAPERIES OF SADNESS—TOUCHING SCENES AT THE RECEPTION OF KALAKAUA'S BODY.

A Honolulu, Hawaii, dispatch via steamer to San Francisco says Workmen were busily engaged in preparation for the welcoming of King Kalakaua who was expected to return from the United States improved in health, when the United States steamer Charleston was sighted early Tuesday morning, Jan 29

The decorations and arches of welcome were torn down or turned into emblems of mourning The Charleston under command of Rear Admiral Brown, bearing the body of King Kalakaua arrived at Honolulu harbor Thursday, Jan. 29 The Charleston steamed into port with the Hawaiian and American flags at half mast

Crowds of natives and foreigners gathered at the landing to obtain the first news The United States steamer Mohican and Her Majesty's steamer Nymphe flew their flags at half mast and crossed their yards as signs of mourning Business houses and manufacturers closed, schools were dismissed, government offices closed and the native women, as the Charleston came to anchor, set up a loud wailing

At five, Thursday afternoon, amid the booming of minute guns from warships in port and batteries on shore, the King's body was landed and received by a guard of honor composed of sailors from the Charleston, Mohican and Nymphe, headed by the Charleston's band, playing a funeral dirge. A procession was formed and moved to the palace The streets were packed with people and the air filled with wailings and lamentations as the cortege entered the palace

Dowager Queen Kapiolani appeared on the balcony and gave way to the most violent demonstrations of grief Queen Liliuokalani also appeared on the balcony and was greatly moved. The coffin was placed on a bier in the middle of the throne room On it were arranged the King's crown of state, his sword and royal feather cloak.

The Cabinet met in the evening and issued a proclamation proclaiming Princess Liliuokalani, Queen of the Hawaiian Islands, with the title of Liliuokalani.

The body of the King lay in state in the throne room of the Iolani Palace and people of every class and distinction were allowed to gaze on the face of their dead sovereign. The body was to lie in state until Sunday, Feb. 15, when a grand procession would convey the remains to the cemetery.

The Ministry appointed by the late King with the approval of the Legislature is likely to remain in office until another Legislature meets in 1892. Although the new Queen is known to have a profound leaning towards the English, no trouble is feared on that score. The Queen is surrounded by counselors well known for integrity and honesty of purpose.

An immense mass meeting was held at Kaumakapili church, Honolulu, Feb. 6, at which a series of resolutions were adopted expressing the gratitude of the Hawaiians to the United States, and to Admiral Brown and the officers of the Charleston for the "unbounded courtesy and kind attentions" offered the king both before and after his death. The same evening a large meeting of the chamber of commerce was held and adopted similar resolutions.

The Sawyer Case.

TESTIMONY AT THE TRIAL IN THE SUPREME COURT

At the trial of Fred W. Sawyer and wife in the Supreme Court on charge of abusing Sawyer's child at Old Town, the following was elicited. The case has attracted much attention in this vicinity

Dr. Weld testified: That in company with Dr. Pease he examined the child and found the radial bone in the left arm displaced, the arm bent and no apparent strength. They straightened the arm and bandaged it. The child's nose had been flattened and there was a bad cut on the mouth. Her head, face and neck were bruised, and there were sores on the child's left arm, and both arms were bruised and scabbed. On her body were several sores and many scars and many black and blue marks, and on the right hip there were two sores, one three and a half by six inches long, one four by six and a half feverish There was a fracture of the left arm, the nose was broken, and there were wounds on thighs and arms. Examined the body, and found bruises and wounds all over her with stripes, teeth marks, black and blue places, and sores, large wound on head and large sore on left arm covered with plaster. Had conversation with Mrs Sawyer, who said the child was a wilful, nervous child and she was unable to control her; she tore her dress and punished her lightly for it I advised her to send the child away for a few months which she said she would do

Dr Norcross, testified Saw the child with two other doctors. Examined her and observed sores on the hips and body Those on the hips were large, raw sores and very painful They may have been caused by repeated blows at that place, or may have been caused by burning She was bruised all over, as was plainly to be seen The marks were caused by blows, by hand, sticks or a rope

Myrtie A. Sawyer the child, eleven years old, testified, Remember when I lived with my aunt before she took me down to Machias Remember when I came back to Oldtown and lived in Grandpa Sawyer's house. Stepmother treated me well while we lived in Machias and began to whip me when we got back to Oldtown She whipped me often with a stick and a rope We moved into another house and she whipped me there worse than at the other place, without cause that I am aware of The cut in the head was caused by her striking me with a stick of fire wood Don't know how she broke my nose Struck me with a large stick on my arm but don't know whether that broke it or not The sores were caused by putting me on a hot stove She bit my side I did not cry because she did not allow me to so any one could hear. She took me to attic where she punched me and kept me there most of the time so many scars she would not let me go to school She bit me on my shoulder because I tore my apron string

DEFENSE

Mrs Cady, of Machias, testified, knew the mother of Mr Sawyer five years before she was married and before she was committed to the Insane Hospital She remained in the hospital seventeen years and died there She was insane just before the respondent was born Saw her frequently after her marriage every day while she lived in Machias The children were treated well while in Machias, had good opportunities to observe they were well dressed and cared for She was responsible at all times apprehensive of approaching trouble

Mrs Brown, of Oldtown testified Mr Sawyer and wife lived across the way from me in Oldtown I saw the children quite often They appeared to be well dressed and cared for what I saw

Mrs Motherstie of Oldtown testified Sawyer and wife moved into my house November, 1889, and lived there until they left for Machias Saw the children frequently They were well dressed Never saw bruises or wounds upon the child Did not see them out very often

Mary Sawyer, the respondent testified Mother has been dead ten years, she died in the Insane Hospital Am 23 years old. After mother was committed to the Insane Hospital I remained with my aunt when not at work out Was married in June, 1888 lived in Machias till next April The children came to our house immediately after marriage Moved to Old Town in April and lived in a house near Mrs Brown's [illegible] Mrs Buzzell had said things to the child that made he troublesome to manage, would not mind me at all and she annoyed me exceedingly I took proper care of the child's clothing and proper food. The morning she was burned, I came down and was warming bread for her breakfast She was naked except her undershirt and standing near the stove The child was accidentally burned. I never bit her The child cut her head with a piece of wire The child was never kept in the attic She had a good room and a good bed I was ill just before we left Old Town and everything annoyed me I was in such a condition that if I whipped her I was not responsible I had no control over myself and would send the child into another room that I might not see her I had no help in the house but managed to do my work alone In regard to the child's nose I do not know anything about it excepting the child had catarrh very badly

Fred W Sawyer testified My wife's health was always good except at times She was odd at times, It worried me and I consulted physicians in regard to it Any little thing would irritate her and she would get nervous and excitable The child was aggravating to her and would not mind either myself or wife Never saw her whip Myrtie to injure her The child fell down while carrying in an arm ful of wood and hurt her arm The child was burned against the stove while dressing near it and told me she was accidentally pushed against the stove door Tried to get Mrs Buzzell to take the child to board but she refused The younger child is in Orphan's Home

The racing stallion Elector, record 2 21¼, died at Springfield, Ill last Saturday He was valued at about $15 000

Hagen, the champion Norwegian skater defeated Cormick, the Canadian champion, over the first course Sunday in the contest for the skating championship of the world The course measured 3,047 metres and was covered by Hagen in 15 minutes, 56 2-5 seconds Cormick's time was 16 minutes, 27 3-5 seconds.

THE WHIG AND COURIER FOR 1891

With the opening of the new year THE BANGOR DAILY WHIG AND COURIER began the publication of its fifty eighth volume This is the era of progress and in no respect is this great truth more forcibly illustrated than in the improvements that mark the publication of a newspaper The newspaper to-day is not only the medium through which the reader keeps himself informed of the current events of the civilized world but in its literary features combines the attractions heretofore only found in the magazine with a correct and fresh news summary each day In the onward march maintains its proud position as one of the leading journals in New England Its facilities for gathering the news from every point of the globe are unrivalled having at its command the complete Telegraph Service of the

THE DAILY WHIG

ASSOCIATED PRESS.

This great organization has grown to be one of the wonders of the age having its agents in every part of the habitable globe whence over cable and land telegraph lines the newspapers of the Association are instantly informed of every important event at home and abroad THE WHIG is the only morning paper in Eastern Maine to receive these despatches now recognized as indispensable to a live daily paper and as it is sent by mail on the early morning trains to all points in the State gives to its readers the latest news up to the moment of going to press In addition to this it has its corps of special correspondents throughout the State and elsewhere This winter its columns will be particularly interesting on account of the session of the Legislature at Augusta where we shall have a special Representative as well as the closing session of the Fifty First Congress the work of which is of so much importance as to make the daily reports of great value Its telegraphic columns give daily quotations of the Financial and Produce markets its Local Department for Bangor Brewer and vicinity is complete in each detail while the Maine News column gives a daily summary of current events in every section of the State The aim of the publisher is to make THE WHIG

A First Class Family Newspaper

in every particular constantly adding new features, thus keeping well abreast of the times THE WHIG will continue its earnest and fearless advocacy of the Republican principles and general line of public policy of which it has so long been a prominent and influential champion while its columns will ever promote all that leads to the development of the grand old State of Maine

Earnestly appreciating the cordial support that has been given our efforts in past years we assure our readers that neither labor nor expense will be spared to make the paper for 1891 better than ever before

An Evidence of Weakness.

The advocates of the Australian ballot are now looking for a compromise measure that shall apply only to the large towns and cities. This is a manifest evidence of weakness and should not deceive the opponents of the bill now pending. It shows that its friends are beginning to realize that there is no great popular demand for this change in our electoral system, and that they are willing to make a trade rather than admit that after all their talk they have been forced to retire before the constantly increasing opposition. The attempt to make it appear that the Legislature would commit a grave blunder if it refuses to enact this needless legislation is worse than ridiculous, because it is an indirect effort to create an entirely erroneous impression. The people do not want this system and the Legislature will make no mistake if it declines to subject the people to this useless tax.

The same bulldozing tactics were employed two years ago, but the Legislature defeated the Australian ballot bill then pending and there was not a ripple of disapproval on the part of the people. The test was again made in the last Republican State Convention when the friends of this fad tried to have it incorporated in the party platform. The resolution was killed in a committee comprised of one man from each county in the State, and its friends did not attempt to force the issue on the floor of the convention, knowing that they would be voted down. The action of that convention was heartily approved by the people and not a dissenting voice was heard save from the few men responsible for the introduction of the resolution.

During the discussion of the question there have not been any substantial reasons given why the change should now be made. But one man undertook to seriously impeach the ballot in Maine and his statements were so ridiculously false that even their own witnesses repudiated his charges. Hon J. Manchester Haynes openly declared that the ballot in Maine was as honest and fair as in any State in the Union. There can be no doubt about the accuracy of this statement, hence there is no ground for this proposed interference with our election laws. It is a matter of record that every Republican paper now engaged either directly or indirectly in casting reflections upon the ballot in this State, but a few months ago were joyfully proclaiming Maine's grand popular verdict to the country at large as a splendid indorsement and a glorious example for the people. It was a grand verdict; it was a representative verdict; it was an honest verdict and was obtained under our present simple, inexpensive and satisfactory electoral system, which, by the testimony of the [illegible] it, the first one proposed law insures as honest a ballot as is obtained in any State in the Union. This fact admitted, surely there is no reason why Maine should adopt this cumbersome system.

The Law Should Stand

We certainly hope that the Legislature will not repeal the law forbidding the use of pigeons for trap shooting. A movement has been started to secure the repeal of the law and we understand that the committee has reported favorably. We are unable to comprehend, however, just what argument can be advanced in support of the repeal of the law. It cannot be said that the needless slaughter, or what is worse, the wounding of the pigeons as they escape from the trap, serves any good purpose. With clay pigeons and glass balls which can be thrown from the traps it seems to us nothing short of downright cruelty to use the live pigeons for this sport, which at best is simply a test of marksmanship. There is now, we are informed a favorable report before the Legislature to make the education of the youth in our schools include the necessary instruction to cause them to treat with kindness birds and dumb animals of all kinds. This is to be done by setting aside a portion of each week to the study of the nature and habits of the birds and animals. Such a departure it seems to us would be a step in the right direction, but if the Legislature should repeal the pigeon law, thus subjecting these harmless birds to the cruelty of trap shooting, it would be an object lesson that would soon eradicate much of the benefit to be derived from the proposed instruction in the schools. The pigeon law comes up Thursday and unless the Legislature proposes to take a step backward the law will be allowed to stand.

A Manly Ballot.

The Bangor Commercial admits that the adoption of the Australian ballot in this State would be hailed by the rum-sellers as opening the way for a possibly successful attack upon the prohibitory law. We thank our contemporary for this authoritative admission. Its question whether we are opposed to allowing every citizen to express his opinion on this or any other question undeterred by moral and physical terrorism is very easily answered. The Whig has mighty little respect for an "honest opinion" that can only be expressed in a secret closet and is opposed to any system of voting that enables men to do under cover that which they would be ashamed to do before their fellow men. Men who have honest convictions are not afraid to declare them. In 1884 over 30,000 Democrats who went to the polls and voted the straight party ticket refused to vote against the constitutional amendment. Does the Commercial mean to say that one-half of the members of its party were subjected to terrorism, and if so by whom? We would not give much for the convictions of a man, be he Republican or Democrat, who, when he goes to the polls with a feeling that any man on the ticket ought to be cut, is unwilling to act up to his convictions unless he can go into a secret closet and deceive some one. This is not our idea of a manly ballot.

The many friends of Hon. E. C. Goodnow, of Calais, the American Consul at St. Stephen, will be deeply pained to learn of his sudden death, which occurred Monday morning after a few hours' illness. Heart failure was the cause of his death. Mr. Goodnow was well known in this city and throughout the State, having represented his city in both branches of the Legislature. He was one of the active young Republicans of Eastern Maine. He was apparently in his usual good health Sunday morning but was stricken down in the afternoon and died as stated above. The sad occurrence will be a severe shock to the community in which he resided.

McKinley on Protection.

A powerful address was made Thursday evening by the Hon. William McKinley, Jr., before the Ohio Republican League at Toledo, which was largely devoted to an exposition and refutation of ex-President Cleveland's declaration of free-trade theories in a speech at Columbus. They were theories which "exalt cheap goods from abroad above good wages at home."

In contrast, Mr. McKinley quoted Thomas Jefferson's letters, as follows:

"The prohibiting duties we lay on all articles of foreign manufacture, which prudence requires us to establish at home with the patriotic determination of every good citizen to use no foreign article which can be made within ourselves, without regard to difference of price, secure us against a relapse into foreign dependency."

Also the following from his letter to Benjamin Austin: "We must now place the manufacturer by the side of the agriculturist. Experience has taught me that manufacturers are now as necessary to our independence as to our comfort, and if those who quote me as of a different opinion will keep pace with me in purchasing nothing foreign, where an equivalent of domestic fabric can be obtained, without regard to difference in price, it will not be our fault if we do not soon have a supply at home equal to our demand."

Referring to the Democratic victories at the polls in November last, Mr. McKinley said.

The Democratic victory has had still further uses. It has established beyond dispute or controversy the partnership between the Democratic free trade leaders of the United States and the statesmen and ruling classes of Great Britain. It is a powerful alliance—a resolute and aggressive combination. If you have any doubt of it I beg you will read the English press and the Democratic press of the United States just before and since the elections, and you will be convinced that they are fighting in the same unpatriotic cause, engaged in the same crusade against our industries. They rejoice together over the same victory. Theirs is a joint warfare against American labor and American wages, a plot against the industrial life of the Nation, a blow at the American Commonwealth. Is it any wonder that the chief of Democratic tariff reformers, the Hon. David A. Wells, of Connecticut, should have felt constrained to advise his co-partners across the Atlantic that they were retarding the cause they wished to promote by too open a demonstration?

Mr. McKinley's eloquent summary of the results of protection deserves attention. He said

Edward Atkinson, a careful student and himself a tariff reformer, recently wrote. "The share of the annual product which is now falling to workmen, in the strictest sense, is a bigger share of a bigger product than workmen have ever attained before in this or any other country."

Invention, improved machinery and new processes, stimulated by our industrial conditions, made possible by protective laws, have improved the products of our workshops and have brought articles of comfort and necessity within the easy reach of the masses, with no diminution of the rewards of their labor.

Thirty years of protection have brought us from the lowest to the very highest rank of industrial progress; have lifted up our labor to that high plane so necessary to American citizenship and equal suffrage, have given to agriculture a home market unrivalled on the globe; have given to the Nation's promises a name without a financial stain; have raised our National credit from dishonor to honor; our National obligations from a discount to a premium. Every American must have a feeling of pride in such a record. If we have cheap garments they are woven here, the wool was grown here, the labor was employed here, the machinery made here, the wages paid here and the purchase price kept here, all promoting the general [illegible] good; all tending to the welfare and prosperity of the people. Shall we turn away from this? The weight of the nations is overwhelmingly on our side. Which is right? The British Government, whose colonies and dependencies, with two exceptions, have protective tariffs (applicable not alone to other nations, but operative against England itself), or all the rest of the civilized world? Call the roll of the nations; which are for protection? Germany, France, Italy, Spain, Mexico, Canada, South America, Portugal, Denmark, most of Australasia, Switzerland, Austria and Hungary, Russia, Sweden and Norway and the United States of America. Which are against protection? England, New South Wales, New Zealand. It will be noted that "tariff for revenue only," or "tariff reform," is almost exclusively an English decoration. But how stand the people of the world on this question? At least 430,000,000 people in favor of protection; 38,000,000 of Britons against it, to whom must be added those Americans whose numbers are not known, who, while living under our flag, seem to follow another. That is how the jury stands.

We have no controversy with Great Britain or her fiscal system. She is free to adopt the one which her statesmen believe will best serve her welfare and that of her people. Each nation must settle its own domestic policy, each is supreme in that sphere and should brook no interference from the outside. We exercise that undoubted fundamental right ourselves and for ourselves, repelling all outside intrusion, and we accord the same right to our sister nations, free from any intrusion on our part. Each nation must work out its own destiny in its own way, and is accountable only to the Supreme Ruler and to its own citizens.

We believe the American policy best adapted to our citizenship and civilization, and this belief is sustained by the highest American authorities from Washington down and by a hundred years of experience. We know what it has already accomplished for a self-governed people. The world knows of the wonderful progress we have made. If this policy is to be reversed it must be done not by clamor and misrepresentation, not by schoolmen and theorists, not by falsehood and hypocritical solicitude for the poor man, not by exaggerated laudation of the cheap coat, but after the fullest discussion and investigation by the sober and intelligent judgment of the majority constitutionally registered. It will never be so reversed while we remain a nation of political equals. Time and experience have vindicated the great system. Time and truth will vindicate the new law, which was founded upon it.

X, was well placed in business and in January, 1883, he insured his life for ten thousand dollars. Later on he met with financial reverses and suffered anxiety, which in time produced brain troubles, and he died in January, 1884, having paid three premiums to the life insurance company. The insurance money was promptly paid and this fund was all that was left as provision for his family. On one policy the return was six hundred per cent of the amount invested. When X. insured his life it would have seemed presumptuous for anybody to suppose that his family would ever really NEED IT. The Chronicle.

MAINE LEGISLATURE.

The Death of Gen. Sherman Communicated by the Governor.

Eloquent Eulogies Delivered by Members in Both Branches.

Resolutions On Death of Secretary Windom Acknowledged.

AUGUSTA, Feb. 16. In the House was passed a bill to give the female orphan asylum of Portland the power to admit boy children, a bill to incorporate the York Light and Heat Company; an act to incorporate the Bramhall League of Portland; an act to give additional rights to the Bangor and Aroostook railroad.

The death of Gen. Sherman was communicated by Governor Burleigh.

Gen. Sherman was eulogized by Mr. Ryder, of Penobscot, and Mr. Spear, of Kennebec in the Senate, and Mr. Peaks, of Dover, in the House.

Both branches passed the following resolves:

Resolved, That the Legislature of Maine learns with deep regret of the death of Gen. Wm. T. Sherman, a great general, a patriot, and a citizen whom the nation has loved to honor and learned to love.

Resolved, That the tenderest sympathies of the people of Maine are present with his family in its time of grief and that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted by the Secretary of State to the family of the deceased.

Resolved, That both branches of the Legislature do now adjourn as a further mark of respect to the deceased.

A communication was received from C. M. Hendley acknowledging the resolutions regarding the death of Secretary Windom and conveying from Mrs. Windom an expression of sincere appreciation of the tribute therein paid the memory of her husband.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of United States Consul Goodnow of Calais.

CALAIS, Feb. 16. Edwin C. Goodnow, of Calais, U. S. Consul at St. Stephen, N. B., was taken suddenly ill Sunday afternoon and died this morning of heart failure.

He was thirty-one years old. He served several years in the city government of Calais, was representative in the Legislature in 1883 and 1885 and Senator in 1887. He was unmarried.

FROM WINTHROP.

Ministerial Meeting—Masons to Have a Fine Hall

WINTHROP, Feb. 16. The Lewiston District Methodist Ministerial meeting opened at Monmouth this afternoon and continues three days, with a good attendance of ministers and laymen. The programme is varied and interesting, including addresses by prominent clergymen of the denomination and it promises to be an interesting session.

The Masonic bodies of Winthrop have leased Packard Hall for a term of fifteen years and will begin remodelling operations this week. The building is comparatively new and has one of the largest audience rooms in town. When completed it will be one of the largest and best in the State.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Portland Man Killed by the Cars in Boston

BOSTON, Feb. 16. At 3 this afternoon a man supposed to be Ira F. Clark, of Portland, Maine, jumped on the train leaving the South Boston station of the Old Colony railroad enroute for the Kneeland street passenger station in this city.

Later his body was found upon the track with his head severed from his body. He was apparently 35 or 40 years of age and 5 feet 10 inches in height. He wore a black suit and a black derby hat.

In the Hat Was Found written on a piece of white paper "Ira F. Clark, Portland, Me." In a pocket was found a slip of paper upon which was written "No. 17 Chester Square." He had upon his person a gold watch and chain, to which was attached a massive charm, $100 in bank bills, a purse containing some change, and a bunch of keys marked "Portland Express." The body was taken in charge by an undertaker, and Medical Examiner Draper was notified.

No Doubt as to His Identity.

PORTLAND, Feb. 16. There is no doubt as to Clark's identity. He was going South on a vacation trip, the first in ten years. He had been working very hard in the clothing business.

WATER RISING HIGH.

The Bridges About Johnstown Liable to be Swept Away.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 16. The water in the river is two feet higher than at any time since the great flood and is still rising.

A telegram from Shade Creek says the large log boom is liable to break at any time.

Should this happen the destruction of the bridges will be complete.

FIRE RECORD.

Heroic Efforts of Attendant Sisters Save Lives.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 16. The loss on St. Mary's hospital, which was burned last night, is $65,000; insurance, $20,000. Frank Jayne was fatally hurt by a fall from a ladder. None of the patients were injured. The attendant Sisters worked heroically, and to them is due the major portion of the credit for saving the lives of the patients.

A SWINDLER ARRESTED.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senator Quay Replies to His Assailants.

Pronounces the Charges False and Foul to the Core.

The House Takes Action on the Death of Gen. Sherman.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. The Senate considered the Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation bill.

The Senate held an executive session, and when the doors were reopened at 4.35, Mr. Quay made an address in answer to the charges made against him.

He said: Never, probably, since Alexander Hamilton was hunted to death, has one in public life been pursued so persistently and malignantly. The field of the malign effort has been the entire Union. The assaults were a character so monstrous as to carry with them their own refutation. Were it otherwise I could not remain, nor would my constituents permit me to remain a member of this Senate. Partly through indifference to slander, a weapon which never had a place in my political arsenal, and partly by the advice of friends who urged me to treat the assassins to reputation as deserving of an open controversy, I have permitted without comment, the passage of the flood of falsehood.

Its malodorous odors chance at this time to be quiescent, and now, when no heated political conflict is raging, when neither hope nor fear can be deemed inspiration of my utterances, I choose briefly to confront the accusation with the truth. I would not allude to this subject in this presence had not the members of the other house made it a matter of debate there. Looking to the future and knowing that the records of this Congress will remain for other generations to read when most of us composing it are forgotten, I choose, for the truth of history, and for that which is dearer to all men than riches, to dispel the mist of falsehood with the clear light of fact. The first assertion concerning my official acts is that at some time of continuously between 1879 and 1882, I, alone or acting with another, or others, used moneys of the State of Pennsylvania for speculative or private purposes.

I denounce this statement as absolutely false. In 1887 the Democratic party of Pennsylvania elected a State Treasurer and Auditor, the general financial officers of the commonwealth. A year or two later, pending their terms of office, I became engaged in stock operations, and in some transactions I was associated and generally interested with the gentleman who at the time was cashier of the State Treasury. These transactions proved seriously disastrous and I was compelled to pay a portion of his losses, as well as my own. In doing this it became necessary to supply an alleged deficiency he caused in the treasury. As a portion of the fund for this purpose, I borrowed $100,000 from a gentleman, at present my colleague in the Senate. I gave him my judgment note therefor, the amount of which note I paid him dollar for dollar years ago.

Not until the beginning of the settlement of our loss was I aware a deficiency existed. I had every assurance that my associate was able to carry his share of the losses. My connection thereafter was simply with the aid of friends, to raise the necessary funds to supply the deficit. It is charged again that I used money belonging to the commonwealth of Pennsylvania to purchase bonds, or stock, or both, of the Chicago street railway property in Chicago and [illegible], borrowing money upon my own collateral from the People's Bank of Philadelphia. I stood upon the same footing with the other gentleman concerned and it was a perfectly straightforward business transaction. I had no connection in any way with any public interest. The charge that securities belonging to the State of Philadelphia were used in this transaction is false, and impossible of truth.

The only negotiable securities held by the State of Pennsylvania, are registered bonds in United States transferable only to the books of the National treasury by the Auditor General, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Treasurer acting conjointly after having filed a certificate with the Governor in their official character. Collateral to this last accusation is the charge that I defrauded or attempted to defraud the widow of a deceased friend. This is absolutely false.

There breathes not upon earth a man or woman who can truthfully say that I ever defrauded or attempted to defraud him or her of a dollar. Upon this point, charity to the dead and living forbids my making any personal explanation. Samuel Gustine Thompson, a member of the Philadelphia bar, and President of the Young Men's Democratic Association of that city, is one of the several thoroughly conversant with the facts, who can give them to the public, if they see proper.

I come now to what might be called the fourth ground of criticism of my public conduct. This was my action as a member of the board of pardons of Pennsylvania in voting for a pardon for certain members of the Pennsylvania legislature and others upon whom sentence was passed for bribery. My conduct in that matter has been bitterly assailed. It is proper to say that the facts were patent to the people of the state and were thoroughly discussed before my election to the office of state treasurer and subsequently to a seat in this chamber. I had no personal interest in the legislation involved. My vote, as a member of the board of pardons was in accordance with the law and action of my colleagues, compelled by the fact that the sentence imposed by the court upon the persons pardoned was illegal. Upon this point the attorney general of the state filed a written opinion with our decision.

I have no regrets for that vote and would repeat it under the circumstances. Even had not the sentence been unlawful in my opinion the ends of justice had been fully served by the conviction of the defendants. One of the gentlemen involved, within the last few weeks, has received the unanimous thanks of the Pennsylvania Legislature for the important services rendered humanity and the State, incidentally. The statement was made that in some unspecified manner I attempted to procure the pardon of a man named Lynch under sentence for forgery, by threats delivered personally to Mr. Byers, of Pittsburg. I cannot at this day remember the facts or the pendency of the case. The charge is a lie for which there never was a shadow of foundation. Equally false is the lyric of my escape from the Pittsburg rioters in 1887 under the tutelage of Dalzell. It is necessary to pass to history somewhat ancient in order to dispose of the nebulous charge of bribery and corruption of a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature nearly 25 years ago in connection with the action for libel against the then editor of the Pittsburg Commercial.

With characteristic malignity my assailants are careful to emphasize the fact that the case was never pushed for trial. They fail to state the libel was retracted and the defendant pleaded nolo contendre, paying the costs of the case and the fees of counsel. In the preliminary hearing an effort was made to show that I was a rich man, the innuendo being that my wealth was unlawfully acquired. I was Prothonotary of Beaver County from 1856 to 1861, when I resigned to go into the Union army. I served as Private Secretary to Governor Curtin, as Military Agent of the State in this city, as Chief of the State Department of Transportation and Telegraph for three terms, and a member of Pennsylvania Legislature. My recollection is that examination disclosed the fact after nearly twelve years of industry and opportunity that my fortune was about $8,000. It is proper also to dispose of some statements upon which less stress was laid.

One accusation is that over twenty years ago I attempted to bribe Alex. P. Tutton, then Supervisor of Internal Revenue for the eastern district of Pennsylvania to prevent the seizure of an illicit distillery. This is a wicked and malicious falsehood, without excuse for utterance or evidence for support. Tutton is now living at Downingtown, Pa., and if reports are correct, I presume is in the Internal Revenue Bureau. The statement made that when the present high license statute of Pennsylvania was pending in the Legislature of the State the liquor dealers of Philadelphia and Pittsburg raised a sum specified as $60,000 and gave [illegible] to me and to a [illegible] of Philadelphia, not named, for the purpose of [illegible] an amendment [illegible] amendment; nor had I ever in any subject any corrupt or unlawful concern with a liquor or any other merchant interested and concerned in legislation, constitutional or otherwise in Pennsylvania or elsewhere. I have endeavored to answer every specific charge of misfeasance or malfeasance that could be extracted from a careful perusal of the mass of direct falsehoods, confused statements, innuendoes and the cunning implication that with an industry worthy of a better cause has been gathered together for my destruction.

I deny them seriatim and in toto. They are false and foul to the core.

At the close of Mr. Quay's remarks the Senate resumed consideration of the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill, to which the following amendment was agreed to, in executive session:

To enable the President to make an engagement with any such citizens or corporation of the United States as shall appear to possess the means and facilities for telegraphic communication between the United States and the kingdom of Hawaii, which engagement shall contain a provision that the service shall, in the judgment of the President, secure the Government and citizens of the United States, early and equal communication by telegraph with said kingdom, on reasonable terms for a period of not less than fourteen years, and a sum not exceeding $250,000 is appropriated for each year during which the engagement shall be in operation, not exceeding twenty years.

The sum total paid under this authority will not exceed $3,000,000.

The bill and amendments were reported from the Committee of the Whole to the Senate.

The committee amendments were agreed to in bulk, except in regard to the Hawaiian Telegraph cable on which a separate vote was taken and which was agreed to.

Mr. Washburn moved to increase the salary of the Consul at Kingston, Jamaica, from $2,000 to $3,000. Agreed to.

Mr. Dolph moved to increase the salary of the Minister to Port Royal from $5,000 to $10,000.

Pending discussion Mr. Hale moved the Senate adjourn, to avoid an order for a recess from 6 to 8 P. M.

Before the vote was stated the Vice President announced the appointment of the following Senators to attend General Sherman's funeral, the number having been increased from 5 to 6: Messrs. Evarts, Hawley, Manderson, Pierce, Cockrell and Walthall.

The Senate at 6 P. M. adjourned.

House.

The House went into Committee of the Whole, with Mr. Dingley of Maine in the chair, on the Indian Appropriation bill.

Without disposing of the bill the committee rose, and Mr. Cutcheon, of Michigan, chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the House of Representatives has heard with profound sorrow of the death of William Tecumseh Sherman, the last of the Generals of the armies of the United States,

Resolved, That we mourn him as the greatest soldier remaining to the Republic and the last of the illustrious trio of Generals who commanded the armies of the United States, Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, who shed imperishable glory upon American arms and were idolized leaders of the Union army.

Resolved, That we hereby record the high appreciation in which the American people held the character and services of Gen. Sherman as one of the grandest patriots our country has produced, as a noble man in the broadest and fullest meaning of the word. We mingle our grief with that of the nation mourning the departure of a great son and of the survivors of battle scarred veterans whom he led to victory and peace, and we especially tender our sympathy and condolence to those bound to him by ties of blood and strong personal affection.

Resolved, That the Speaker appoint a committee of nine members of the House to attend the funeral of the late General as representatives of this body.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded by the clerk of the House to the family of Gen. Sherman.

Messrs. Cutcheon, Grosvenor, Outhwaite, Williams of Ohio, Henderson of Illinois and Vandever of California, paid brief tributes to the memory of the dead General.

Mr. Coggswell, of Massachusetts, referred to Gen. Sherman as the military genius of the war and invoked the Divine blessing upon his memory.

Mr. Wheeler, of Alabama, voiced the sentiment of the Confederate soldiers in expressing his sorrow at the demise of Gen. Sherman and in testifying to his great military skill and ability.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted and the Speaker appointed the following committee: Messrs. Cutcheon, Spinola, Coggswell, Cummings, Grosvenor, Kinsley, Tarsney, Henderson of Illinois, and Outhwaite.

The House adjourned.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

Clerk Relieved of Several Thousand Pounds By a Stranger.

LONDON, Feb. 16. As a clerk was making a deposit in the National Provincial Bank this morning he was approached by a stranger who asked him a few questions regarding the method of depositing.

While the short conversation was going on another man approached, snatched the wallet from the clerk, in which were bonds and checks representing several thousand pounds, and fled.

He has not been captured.

Further Particulars.

LONDON, Feb. 16. A youth named McKenzie, clerk of the Bank of Scotland, went to the National Provincial Bank of England to-day to deposit. He placed his leather satchel containing £ 1,590 in Bank of England notes upon the counter. A fashionably dressed young man spoke to McKenzie, and as the latter's attention was distracted another man snatched the satchel and made off with it.

The police officials are of the opinion they were two expert American thieves. McKenzie seems unable to furnish the police with any further clue than the description of the man who accosted him.

The National Provincial Bank's employes furnished the police with the description of the one who stole the money.

The Bank of England notes are easily disposed of and there is not much chance of the capture of the thieves.

FROM WASHINGTON.

News About the Capitol.

Nomination by the President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. The President sent to the Senate to-day the nomination of Edgar Aldrich as United States District Judge for New Hampshire.

Pension Estimates.

Revised estimates of the pension deficiency for the present fiscal year, laid before the House Appropriations Committee by the Commissioner of Pensions, makes the amount $27,078,332, or $5,321,668 less than the former estimate.

Order of Business in the House.

The caucus of Republican members of the House was to-night attended by almost 75 members. The drift of opinion was against any action on the silver question at this time. Neither Speaker Reed nor Mr. McKinley was present. The silver bill was the principal measure under discussion. No conclusion was reached on the question. The only tangible result of the caucus was the adoption of the following resolution:

That it is the sense of this caucus that the chairman and Secretary be instructed to request the immediate presence and continued attendance of a [illegible] Republican Representatives during the remainder of this Congress.

SHOCKING DEATH.

A Woman Burned to Death.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 16. Mrs. Bridget M. Morrissey, a widow residing at 16 Carver street, was burned to death this evening, by her dress taking fire from a stove.

VALUABLE HORSE FLESH

Sold by Gen. R. L. Howard.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 16. To-day in this city, Gen. Rufus L. Howard sold the entire stock of his farm, including the celebrated stallion Wilkie Collins, by George Wilkes, 2.19, valued at $[illegible] and [illegible] other brood mares, stallions and youngsters to W. J. White, the Yucatan gum millionaire of Cleveland for $[illegible].

OUR HONORED DEAD.

Further Arrangements Completed for the Last Obsequies.

President and Cabinet Invited to Take Part in the Exercises.

The Special Train Will Leave for St. Louis Thursday Evening.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. There were very few callers at the Sherman residence to-day.

The body of the General remains in the receiving caskets in the darkened room in which he died. Telegrams are constantly arriving, but they principally relate to the funeral arrangements here and in St. Louis.

Nothing further has been decided than that the remains will be buried in an oaken casket, covered with black cloth and lined with white satin.

Word has been received from Washington that the Senate will send a committee of five to represent that body, and it is understood that delegations from all the organizations of which Gen. Sherman was not a member will be limited to the same number.

Will be Dressed in full Uniform.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. The remains of Gen Sherman will be placed in the burial casket to-morrow morning and taken to the front parlor on the first floor.

The great commander will be dressed in the full uniform of a General of the United States Army.

Until Thursday none but members of the family will be permitted to see the body. The smallness of the house will admit of only a few viewing the remains and only those will be admitted who make a special request. This will be the only occasion upon which the remains can be seen.

The Orders for the Procession and its line of march were practically completed to-night. The route will be Eighth avenue to 57th street, to Fifth avenue, to Washington Square, to McDougall's street, to Watts street, to King street, to Desbrosses street ferry. Minute guns will be fired during the moving of the cortege.

It is expected that from 12,000 to 15,000 men will be in line.

The Stock Exchange will be closed on the Day of the Funeral

and the Produce Exchange will stop business at noon.

The funeral car will be placed on the regular St. Louis express on the Pennsylvania Road at 6.30 Thursday evening. The train is expected to arrive at St. Louis Saturday morning at 7.30. Only a few of the General's family and relatives will go to St. Louis. Only one car will be used by them.

President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania Road, has tendered the family the use of his special car.

President and Cabinet Invited.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. The President and Cabinet were to-day formally invited by Generals Howard and Slocum to participate in the ceremonies in New York Thursday incident to the transfer of the remains of Gen. Sherman to St. Louis. The question will be considered at to-morrow's Cabinet meeting. The invitation will undoubtedly be accepted unless the state of public business renders it impossible for the President and Cabinet to leave the capital on that day.

Gen. Grant, Acting Secretary of War, to-day issued orders for the corps of cadets at the Military Academy and the battalion of engineers at Willet's Point, N. Y., to report to Gen. Howard Thursday morning for duty in connection with the funeral of Gen. Sherman.

GIBSON INDICTED

For the Alleged Plot to Blow up a Distillery.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. George J. Gibson was indicted by the grand jury to-day for the alleged plot to blow up the Shufeldt distillery.

He will be arrested to-morrow if he has not fled.

To-day he resigned the secretaryship of the Whiskey Trust.

He claims he is innocent of wrong doing.

FIRE IN A MINE.

A Large Party of Rescuers at Work to Relieve Prisoners.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., Feb. 16. The Meyer mine about three miles from this place is on fire. An employe dropped a naked lamp which is thought to have caused the explosion.

Four men are understood to be entombed and there are little prospects for their being reached. A large body of men are at work trying to subdue the flames.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Lothrop Dramatic Stock Company.

The Lothrop Dramatic Stock Company opened a week's engagement at the Opera House last evening, with John A. Stevens' melo drama "Passion's Slave," and the presentation was attended by a large audience. The company is playing at popular prices, and gives a good entertainment for the price of admission. The principal parts are entrusted to fairly competent persons, Mr. J. Gordon Edwards as "Manuel De Foe" doing commendable work, while Miss Glassford's "Mamie Brisco," was well portrayed. Miss McTeigh's "Pattie" was marked by brightness and activity.

To-night the play will be "The Galley Slave."

Notes.

An interesting announcement is that of the coming of the celebrated Boston Theatre Company, under the management of Mr. Eugene Tompkins, to the Opera House, next Monday night, when Conquest and Merritt's stirring melo-drama "Mankind" will be given. It was originally produced in London and ran for an entire season. It has had a very successful run in Boston, New York and other cites. It is said to be one of the strongest productions to be given here this season, and will doubtless be very largely attended.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Special Rates.

For special rates for THE WHIG during the session of the Legislature apply at this office.

The night force of THE WHIG is indebted to Oriental Lodge of Odd Fellows for some delicious refreshments.

Several men were admitted to American citizenship at the session of the Supreme Judicial Court in this city yesterday.

A purse containing a small sum of money, which was picked up on the street yesterday, awaits an owner at Taney's drug store.

The flag upon G. A. R. Hall was at half mast yesterday out of respect to the memory of the late Admiral Porter and Gen. Sherman.

The headquarters of the Bangor Band on Main street have been wired for electric lights, which will be a great improvement in the lighting arrangements.

Officer Bickford was off duty last night on account of illness, resulting from a severe cold. Officer Tracey resumed duty last night after being off one night.

The Woman's Auxiliary and Sister Mary Chapter, connected with St. John's Episcopal church, will meet every Thursday at 3 P. M., during Lent, in the Guild room.

We have received with the compliments of J. D. Glynn, the World Almanac for 1891, which contains a large amount of varied information. It is a handy volume.

Messrs. Pearson & Mulvaney have been making some improvements at their sail loft on Broad street, which will add to the appearance and convenience of the place.

The members of Oriental Lodge, I. O. O. F., entertained visitors from Island Lodge, Bar Harbor, last evening, and the occasion was a very pleasant one to all present.

The entertainment in City Hall next Thursday evening will be given by the Universalist society and not by the Methodist society, as a typographical error made us say yesterday.

Mr. A. G. Ray assisted Rev. S. D. Towne at the meeting at Veazie last evening, rendering several solos, to the pleasure of the audience. Mr. J. C. Young, of the Theological Seminary, also assisted Rev. Mr. Towne.

A dance will be given next Friday evening at the hall at Eddington Pond under the auspices of the Eastern Rifle Club. Quite a large number from this city will attend, it is expected, and a pleasant affair is anticipated.

The Lothrop Dramatic Stock Company, which began a week's engagement at the Opera House last evening, arrived in the city yesterday morning from Providence. The members are stopping at the Penobscot Exchange.

In the window of the store of F. D. Pullen & Co., are exhibited pictures of prominent Generals who have passed away since the war, and the number includes those of Generals Sherman, Sheridan, Grant, Logan and Hancock.

"Old Jed Prouty's" dream of greatness for the town of Bucksport in the matter of purchasing new hose for the fire companies has been realized, but instead of the "fifteen feet" of hose that Jed thought they ought to have, the town has invested in two hundred feet of the best rubber lined hose and it has been received.

Remember the supper and entertainment at Grace church this evening. An interesting musical and literary programme has been arranged and supper of escalloped oysters, cold meats, etc., will be served before the entertainment. It is expected that Mr. Don Hatch and his two little daughters will sing at the entertainment.

Mr. E. Gould, evangelist of Hallowell, recently passed through this city on his way to Bar Harbor to commence a series of song and religious services in the Methodist church. Mr. Gould is non-sectarian and cordially invites people of all religious preferences to unite with him in these services designed for the good of the community.

It is expected that several new cottages will be built at Bar Harbor this year, as arrangements have been made with that end in view. Architect John Calvin Stevens has completed plans for an elegant residence for Mrs. Rufus King, of Cincinnati, at that resort, and other architects and builders are engaged upon the plans and preliminaries for cottages.

The members of Queen City Grange, announce a public lecture at their hall, Six Mile Falls, on Saturday, February 21st, at 2 o'clock, P. M., by Prof. W. H. Jordan, of the Experiment Station, Orono. The subject will be "Lessons from Dairy Experiments." All are invited to attend as this is a subject of importance to every farmer, and interesting to all.

The following officers were installed by Rock Lodge, of Kenduskeag, I. O. G. T., Feb. 10, by L. D. F. Harvey: C. T., A. H. Morey; V. T., Fannie Everett; Secretary, Nellie Leavitt; A. S., Mrs. Clement; F. S., J. B. Cole; Treasurer, Mrs. Benjamin; Marshal, Fred Cole; D. M., Ella Whitney; Chaplain, Rev. H. B. Morey; G., Hiram Brann; S., Herbert Brann; S. J. T., Mrs. Warren; P. C. T., W. E. Nason.

The many friends in this city of Mr. John A. Cousens and Mrs. Charles M. Griffin will extend their deep sympathy upon the death of their mother, Mrs. Mary J. Cousens, which occurred Sunday at her home in Upper Stillwater. Mrs. Cousens was a most estimable lady and her death will be a source of sorrow to many. The funeral services will be held to-day at 1 P. M. at Upper Stillwater.

Our Orono correspondent writes: The funeral services over the remains of Jackson Page, Esq., of Orono, will take place at the residence of Nathan Frost, Esq., on Main street, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Page, who had been visiting relatives in the West, and her eldest son, Arthur, arrived in Orono Sunday morning. Her homecoming is very sad, and she has the heartfelt sympathy of all our people on this sorrowful occasion.

Mr. Elijah Smith is to build some new buildings on his farm to take the place of those destroyed by fire, and they will be more extensive than those which were burned. He has purchased the lumber used in the construction of Morse, Clergue & Danst's ice stack, and is now taking it to his farm, as fast as the stack is taken to pieces. He will began the construction of the new buildings as soon as possible in the spring, and will have some substantial structures.

The Episcopal quarterly meeting of the Board of Missions and Woman's Auxiliary to be held at Augusta to-day and to-morrow promises to be one of much interest, and a number of delegates will attend from this city and vicinity. The sessions will be held at St. Mark's church and the addresses to-morrow evening will be very interesting to those interested in foreign and domestic and missionary work. Delegations from all parts of the State will attend this service.

Mr. Stevens, of Boston, we are told by a Bangor gentleman who has just returned from Moosehead Lake, caught a togue off Deer Island on Friday last which tipped the beam at 2½ pounds. Truly "there are as good fish in the sea as ever yet were caught."

Arrangements are being made by some of the young people for a ride to Eddington next Thursday evening, where a dance will occur at the hall in that place. The return will be made by moonlight and a very pleasant affair is expected. A large party will undoubtedly go.

Rev. H. L. Griffin will deliver a lecture upon "Berlin and Nuremberg" at the Hammond street church next Thursday evening, and it will be illustrated by stereoptican views. The lecture will be one of much interest and there will doubtless be a large attendance. Supper will be served in the vestry from 6 to 7.30.

The entertainment and dance given by Bangor Lodge, I. O. O. F., occurs this evening at Norombega Hall, and the prospects are that there will be a large party. Tickets for the entertainment, dance and refreshments, which consist of ice cream, cake and coffee, can be obtained of C. J. Jones, Main street, J. H. Kerr, WHIG office, and of any member of the committee. The Schubert Male Quartette and Miss Bertha Milliken have been added to the talent to participate in the concert. The members of Bangor Canton will appear in full uniform. Concert Hall has been engaged for games for those who do not care to dance.

Mr. R. H. Pomeroy and Mr. F. W. Durgin have become associated together as proprietors of the Bangor Exchange. Mr. F. W. Gould, who has been with Mr. Durgin, withdrawing yesterday, and they will doubtless meet with excellent success. Mr. Pomeroy has been superintendent at F. W. Ayer & Co.'s mill for several years and is a business man of ability and good judgment, while Mr. Durgin is a popular and experienced hotel man. Plans are being drawn for an extension of the hotel to Columbia street and the work will be begun before long. The increasing business makes the additional room a necessity and it will be obtained as quickly as possible.

The new crank pin having been put in place in the machinery of the steamer Lucy P. Miller, which has been detained at Rockland for some time by the accidental breaking of the pin the steamer left there Sunday for New York. H. C. Quimby & Co., agents for the New York, Maine and New Brunswick Steamship Company's line, yesterday received a telegram stating that Monday the steamer was detained in Boothbay harbor on account of the heavy southerly gale which prevailed, making it dangerous to proceed at that time. It is expected that the steamer will leave New York for Bucksport next Thursday or Friday, if the gale does not detain her too long.

The Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange excursion to California under the management of Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb, which left Boston a short time ago, had five carloads full of excursionists from different places. Among them are quite a number of Maine men. The excursion party will return on Saturday, March 7th. Different routes in going and returning are used and among the features of the trip will be visits to Lookout Mountain, New Orleans, San Antonio and El Paso, and the leading points of interest in California, including Riverside, Pomona, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Santa Barbara, Fresno, San Jose, Monterey, San Francisco, and Sacramento. Also to Salt Lake City, Manitou, Denver and Chicago, together with the lofty mountains and the grand canons of Colorado.

IS BISHOP HEALY TO BE MADE ARCHBISHOP. The Catholics of Maine are much interested in the report that has been circulated concerning the elevation of Bishop Healy, of Portland, to the Archbishop of Boston. At the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Portland, Sunday, at the 10.30 mass, Bishop Healy delivered an address in the course of which he made reference to a rumor which recently got currency through one of the Boston newspapers which connected Bishop Healy's name with the archbishopric. The bishop said in his address to the people: "You know as much about this as I do" and he went on to say that he thought if a successor to the venerable Archbishop Williams was to be chosen, the choice would hardly fall upon himself, his own health and advancing years being considered. The rumor to which the bishop referred is to the effect that it is proposed to make Archbishop Williams a cardinal and raise Bishop Healy to the rank of Archbishop, giving him the see now occupied by Archbishop Williams.

PULP AND PAPER. The manufacture of pulp and paper is continually on the increase in Maine and several new mills have been constructed in the past few years. The Maine woods have a large amount of the necessary kinds of wood used for pulp and paper, and it is being utilized as the number of mills increases. The proposed Aroostook railroad would open up a vast territory of timber land, which contains what is needed for pulp mills, and its building would stimulate this industry very greatly. Across the border they are advancing in the manufacture of pulp and paper. Canada has 56 paper and pulp mills now in operation, employing 2,250 hands. Says the Canada Lumberman: "The manufacture of pulp is fast becoming a special industry, and it is probable that before long wood pulp will form a special item of export. The best wood is made from spruce and poplar, of which the country produces unlimited quantities, particularly in Quebec and New Brunswick, and the conditions for manufacture in those provinces are very favorable."

Bangor Debating Club.

There was a good attendance in Y. M. C. A. Hall last evening at the meeting of the Bangor Debating Club, and the subject as to whether the toll bridge between this city and Brewer should or should not be made free was quite thoroughly discussed, although it was rather one-sided, most of speakers being in favor of a free bridge. Messrs. Richardson and Bailey spoke in the affirmative and Rowe and Goodenow in the negative, followed by different gentlemen in the body of the house. The vote was in favor of a free bridge, unanimously. The election of officers resulted in the [illegible]

AN EVENING OF MUSIC.

An Enjoyable Event in the Central Club Course.

The Central Club course of lectures was varied last evening by the introduction of a concert, and it was a well appreciated occasion, thoroughly enjoyed by all the members of the large audience present. The musical selections were well chosen and the programme was one of much merit. Owing to a severe cold Mrs. Potter was unable to sing, much to the regret of her admirers. The following was the programme:

Duett, "The Legend," .... Mr. Oscar E. Wasgatt and Miss Silsby.
Harp solo, "Welsh Melody," .... Miss Shaw.
Whistling solo .... Miss Milliken.
Harp solo, "The Nun's Prayer," .... Miss Shaw.
Duett .... Mr. Wasgatt and Miss Silsby.
Harp solo, "The Ash Grove," .... Miss Shaw.
Whistling solo .... Miss Milliken.
Harp solo, "Gavotte," .... Miss Shaw.

Miss Shaw received a warm welcome from the audience, which was exceedingly appropriate not only for the reason that many of her personal friends and acquaintances were present to greet her, but also because her playing was of that charming character which deserved marked recognition. Although having had but a comparatively short public career as a harpist, Miss Shaw has already demonstrated that she is among the foremost artists and her manipulation of the strings, which gave forth such delightful music, was grace itself. The numerous encores which she received were a good indication of the favor with which her selections were received. Pleasing responses were made in each case. Miss Shaw wore a beautiful Greek costume of white with gold passamenterie trimmings.

The duets of Mr. Wasgatt and Miss Silsby were very enjoyable features of the programme, the numbers being rendered with that skill and taste for which these popular musicians are noted. The selections were heartily encored. Miss Milliken is always heard with a great deal of pleasure and her whistling solos of last evening were a part of the concert to which much praise belongs. Recalls were given in each case and responses made by Miss Milliken. It was an exceedingly interesting musical event as all agreed at the close.

The next lecture in the course will be on Monday evening, March 2d, by Prof Smyth, whose subject will be "Martin Luther."

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT

February (Criminal) Term

HON. LUCILIUS A. EMERY, Justice presiding.
CHARLES F. SWEET, Esq., Clerk.
WILLIAM F. REED, Sheriff.
RUEL SMITH, Esq., Reporter.

Monday, February 16th.

State of Maine vs. Fred W Sawyer, Mary Sawyer. Indictment for abusing a child.

Judge Emery fined Mrs Sawyer $75, which she paid.

In the case of State vs. James Fury, charged with stealing a man's watch the County Attorney said that his principal witness could not be found. The court was therefore obliged to let Fury go on own recognizance to appear at the next criminal term, Mr. Hutchings, his counsel, demanding that this either be done or the trial held.

The following sentences were passed during the afternoon session.

State vs. William Hansbury, larceny. Sentence, one year to hard labor in the county jail.

State vs. John Murry, felonious assault. Sentence, 18 months to hard labor in State prison.

State vs. William O'Brien, [illegible] felonious assault. Sentence, 18 months to hard labor in State prison.

State vs. Henry J. Lord, forgery. Sentence, one year to hard labor in the county jail.

Grand Army Encampment.

The Grand Army, Department of Maine, will hold its annual encampment at City Hall, in Portland, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The Council of Administration will meet at the Falmouth Hotel this evening. The encampment will open Wednesday at 2 P. M., when the annual reports will be received. It is understood the reports will show a gain of six posts—at Rumford, Lewiston, Franklin, Houlton, Brownfield and Winn—and 312 members during the year. A large number of post commanders are expected to be present.

Thursday the annual election of officers will take place. The most prominent candidate for commander is Samuel L. Miller, of Waldoboro.

Commander-in-Chief Veazey, of Vermont, is expected to be present at the campfire to be held at City Hall, Wednesday night. The Woman's State Relief Corps will hold its meetings in Reception Hall, and the aldermen's room will be headquarters for them. Bosworth and Thatcher posts will keep open house for the comrades from abroad.

It is probable that B. H. Beale Post, No. 12, and the Woman's Relief Corps will be represented at the encampment which is expected to be very largely attended and a successful event.

Mr. Nelson's Visit to the Provinces

Mr. C. H. Nelson, during his trip to St. John to buy horses, held the ribbons over "Lady Sim" Saturday afternoon upon the occasion of the races on the Marsh road. The St. John Telegraph has the following to say concerning the manner in which he guided the trotter: "Nelson's driving was the subject of much comment, very little of which was favorable to the man who has driven his stallion into the 2.10¾ notch. Many thought he used 'too much whip' for a mare of the Lady's temperament. At any rate, it was evident to all that she was not going as well as when Mr. Johnson handles her."

The complimentary dinner to Mr. Nelson and Mr. G. W. Leavitt, of Boston, at the Victoria Hotel Saturday evening was attended by twenty-eight guests, and was a very pleasant event. In the course of his reply to the toast "Our Guests" Mr. Nelson said although there was a boundary line between the two countries, it did not make any difference to horsemen, who would fraternize despite that, and perhaps it would be better if it were obliterated. He predicted that the time would come when breeders would see that it was better to raise a good animal than a poor one.

"St. John Horsemen" was proposed by Mr. C. H. Nelson. This toast brought responses from Dr. Walker and Messrs. J. A. S. Mott and D. C. Clinch.

"The Health of the Horse Nelson, and May He Break the Record This Year" was offered by Dr. Walker. Mr. Nelson, replying to this, said he would send his horse to break the record next year again. He did not have the slightest doubt, indeed he was confident, that the stallion would again lower his mark.

Respect to General Sherman

The flags in this State have been at half-mast out of respect to the memory of General Sherman.

The following telegram was sent by Governor Burleigh:

To Miss Rachel Sherman, New York:

Accept my profoundest sympathy in this sad hour of affliction. All that is mortal of General Sherman has passed away, but the lustre of his fame, the enduring achievements of his great career can never die. They will be held in cherished remembrance as long as human rights are respected and liberty is loved.

For a Disordered Liver Try BEECHAM'S PILLS. 25cts. a Box. OF ALL DRUGGISTS.

To the Honorable Judge of Probate for the County of Penobscot.

The undersigned, guardian of Robert R. Nolan, Annie M. Nolan, Inez M. Nolan and Harry V. Nolan, minors and heirs of Annie M. Nolan, late of Old Town in said County, deceased, respectfully represents that said minors are seized and possessed of the following described real estate, viz:

A certain lot or parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Old Town on the westerly side of the Bennoch Road, so called, and known as the "Nolan place" and being same premises conveyed to Annie M. Nolan by John A. Nolan, by deed recorded in Penobscot Registry of Deeds, Vol 479, page 499, containing fifty acres, more or less.

That it would be for the benefit of said minors that said Real Estate should be sold, and the proceeds thereof put out at interest, or otherwise used for their benefit.

He therefore prays that License may be granted him to sell and convey the above described Real Estate at public or private sale, according to the requirement of law.

JOSEPH F. GOULD, Guardian.

Androscoggin.

"Did you know we had a man in this city who was born in 1791," inquired an Auburn man of the reporter. "Well, it's a fact. The gentleman is Uncle Charles McKenney, of Danville. If he lives until October he will be 100 years old. He broke one of his legs by a fall a while ago, and has since then been low but he retains full possession of his faculties and his intellect is as bright as a dollar.

Cumberland.

A new industry has developed about the Diamond islands in Portland Harbor—the seining of smelts, which, for several weeks has been successfully prosecuted along the shores of coves and quiet stretches from Little Diamond wharf to the lower end of Great Diamond. A fine net some three hundred feet long, is carried out from the shore in a quarter circle, and then the water is violently beaten with oars to frighten the fish into the net. The catch has been large, several men engaged in the pursuit having recently made thirty dollars each in two days.

The Casco Telephone & Telegraph Company have applied for a charter, and it is their intention if a charter is granted by the Legislature, to build the line, cable to Cushing's Island, across Cushing's to Peaks, Peaks to Big Diamond, Big Diamond to Long Island in Casco Bay. They have had requests made to extend the line to Great Chebeague. Parties are said to stand ready with funds to build these lines. It is the plan of the operators to use them as telegraph lines in the summer travel, and as telephone lines during the winter.

Two well-dressed young men who answered to the names of Charles DeCelle and William DuRoss were arrested in Portland one night last week, on the charge of stealing clothing from houses and committing other petty thieveries about town. They were arraigned Friday and will be held for the grand jury on the charge of being common thieves.

A farmer was in Waterville the other day, who related that less than twenty years ago, in what is now the town of Oakland, on the 13th day April, the snow was over the tops of the fences and the crust so thick and firm that he, in company with another man, drove an ox team, attached to a heavy load of logs upon it without any difficulty whatever. He said that if any one doubted his word in the matter, he could prove his statement, not by the proverbial "Bill Jones if he were alive," but by a man now on earth, and who lives in this immediate vicinity. Let us all earnestly hope that April in this year of grace may not be a counterpart of the month we have written about.

The Colby Echo recently offered two prizes, one for the best short story and the other for the best original poem, to be written by students of the college. A large number of short stories were sent in to be passed upon by the judges, who have announced the prize as belonging to Mr. W. N. Donovan, '92. But, strange to say, not a single short poem was received by the judges, consequently that prize goes a-begging.

The Railroad commissioners make a special report on the hearing regarding the accident on the Western division of the Boston and Maine Railroad at Scarboro, Jan. 22, when the local Kennebunk train was run into by the wild engine in charge of R. B. Bonney, engineer, accompanied by Conductor Tuttle. The report says the accident is the result of gross carelessness, that had the rules been obeyed the accident would have been averted. Bonney is held accountable and also Tuttle to a large extent. The Commissioners also add: "Though we find the direct cause of the accident was carelessness of these men we cannot, but believe that the rules of running trains adopted by the company, and the manner in which they are enforced, contributed much, if not directly, to the result."

A savings bank and a loan and building association are said to be two of the coming improvements in Waldoboro. The schooner George S. Tarbell, of Boothbay, was pulled off Monomoy, Thursday afternoon, and was towed to New Bedford, Sunday, by the tug Leader. The Tarbel, when she left Boothbay for Philadelphia had 800 tons of ice and over 500 tons were thrown overboard while the schooner was ashore. The steam pump easily kept her free of water. She will discharge the remainder of the cargo, and be taken on the marine railway for repairs.

The first residence in what is now the town of Guilford, was a small camp. There was no window in this little home until its mistress, known as Aunt Sally, devised a substitute for glass. A correspondent of the Eastern State tells how she did it. Taking a sheet of writing paper which she had brought with her to her new home, she laid it on the table, saturated it with lard and then tacked it over a hole in the wall. For six months this served for a window and let in all the light they had. She had some home made blankets which she tacked up around the walls to cover the cracks and keep out the cold, and got along so nicely cooking by rock fireplace and with a "Dutch oven," that before the first winter was gone they had taken another young couple in to share the shelter of their roof, while the man made a beginning on another piece of land.

Why does this man stare so? He is simply listening to the marvelous cures effected by Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

The following case illustrates:

February 14th, 1890.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Gentlemen—A remarkable case has occurred in our territory. J. N. Berry, a man about thirty years of age, was going down rapidly. He tried physician after physician, patent medicines, home receipts—in fact, everything. He went to a noted sanitarium and returned no better. We all thought he was dying with consumption, and only a few weeks of life were left for him.

He commenced "Golden Medical Discovery," and at the same time commenced to mend. He has used about two dozen bottles, and is still using it. He has gained in weight, color and strength, and is able to do light work. It is just such a case as we should have listened to rather suspiciously, but when we see it we must believe it.

It has trebled our sales of "Golden Medical Discovery."

JOHN HACKETT & SON,
Druggists, Roanoke, Ind.

In all bronchial, throat and lung affections, lingering coughs, spitting of blood, weak lungs and kindred ailments, the "Discovery" effects the most marvelous cures.

THE ASTOR MILLIONS.

REPRESENTED BY ACRES OF BUILDINGS IN NEW YORK.

They Have Nearly All Been Inherited. The Policy of the Estate Is and Has Been Never to Sell Land or Structures. Something About the Astors.

The fortune of William Waldorf Astor is wholly an inherited one. It represents more particularly than any other great American fortune entailed wealth. The foundation of it was made by the little pack of musical instruments which the first John Jacob Astor brought with him from Germany to sell in what was once New Amsterdam, but which in these latter days is known as New York. Mr. Astor's wealth is almost wholly in real estate. It is probably the most safely invested of all the larger fortunes. Only an earthquake devastating Manhattan Island could wipe it out.

The original John Jacob Astor bought farms along the King's Highway, the old post road extending from the Battery in New York to Albany, the capital of the state. The King's Highway now bears the name of Broadway. The descendants of John Jacob Astor followed his example in acquiring lands, but Broadway soon proved too restricted for their investments, and they bought both to the right and to the left of the thoroughfare.

People who desired to put up residences or business structures would obtain ground leases of the Astors, and on corn fields, potato patches and pastures buildings arose which at the expiration of the lease reverted to the Astors. As a rule these leases ran for twenty-one years. There are acres and acres of buildings in the upper part of Manhattan Island belonging to William Waldorf Astor. The rents from these buildings turn a mighty stream of money into his coffers every month.

THE ASTOR POLICY.

The Astor policy of the acquisition of real estate has always been kept up by each successive heir, and it is being perpetuated by the last one. The real estate reports tell almost a daily story of more property added to the Astor domains of brick and mortar. It has been a saying that "Astor never sells a piece of ground," and this is almost literally true. Rarely, indeed, does a piece of property pass out of the Astor possessions. A peculiarity about the Astor buildings is that the lessees have to supply their own gas burners. While the buildings are always in good order, it is difficult to induce the owner to make alterations or improvements. If the tenant desires these he must make them himself. In this way many valuable additions have been made, which have of course gone to the Astor accumulation.

There is scarcely a bank in New York which handles more money than William Waldorf Astor's office in West Twenty-sixth street, a few doors from Broadway. Here the books of his great property are kept and here the rents are paid in. It is becoming more and more difficult to buy land on Manhattan Island, and the surplus wealth of Mr. Astor is, to some extent at least, seeking investment in other directions. Considerable of it has gone into government bonds and other high grade securities. Mr. Astor is to put up a $2,000,000 hotel in order to find an outlet for the deluge of money which monthly encumbers his Twenty-sixth street office.

Mrs. William Astor is the leader of the Four Hundred. [illegible] conferred by Ward McAllister is a rightful one. William Waldorf Astor, however, is, by reason of succession to the great fortune, the head of the house of Astor. The question arose between Mrs. William Astor and Mrs. William Waldorf Astor as to which was entitled to issue her cards bearing simply the designation Mrs. Astor. The contention awakened considerable bitterness between the two families. It resulted by general consent of society and by decision of the postmaster at Newport in awarding the distinction to Mrs. William Waldorf Astor.

THE ASTOR FAMILY.

William Waldorf Astor at one time had a vaulting political ambition, which, like many another ambition, overleaped itself. He served in both branches of the New York state legislature and sought a seat in congress, but was defeated, and never after could be prevailed upon to ask the suffrages of the people of his district. He served as minister to Italy, in which capacity he made a creditable record. A diplomatic office, however, was not as well suited to his taste as a legislative one. He will never figure in politics again.

He is of a literary turn of mind. He made considerable of a name as a novel writer.

Mr. Astor is 40, tall, well built and agreeable in manner. He wears eye glasses and dresses very quietly. He has always been a great student, and this bent is reflected in his speech and manners. Mr. Astor pays very little attention to the management of his business. He intrusts it to old and tried agents. The Astor property is very easy to manage, for it involves little more than the collection of rents.

The wealth of William Astor, like that of William Waldorf Astor, is almost wholly in real estate, and was inherited from the same source that all the Astor wealth has come. The manorial custom of Europe was established by John Jacob Astor I. When he died the bulk of his fortune went to his eldest son, and so the precedent was set for his estate to pass to the eldest male member of each generation. William Astor is a very retiring man. He is rarely seen in public. He has never displayed any political aspirations, and, although his wife is a social leader, he has never taken more than an incidental part in society. He is known as a great reader and is fond of opera.

Mr. Astor is accustomed to spending his winters in Florida, where he has a fine place. He is the owner of a steam yacht, upon which he cruises in southern waters. At the end of the cold months he comes north on the yacht, and then almost invariably betakes himself to Europe. A life on the water seems to suit him much better than a life on land. He is exceedingly democratic in his ways. He and the master of his yacht are on such terms of familiarity that the latter is said to address him as "William." Mr. Astor is considerable of a recluse. He does not like the hurly burly of the world, and embraces every opportunity to get away from New York to a quieter spot.—New York World.

Fresh Terrapin Eggs for a King Snake.

One of our citizens who observes things closely was out to Cedar Hammock not long since, when he noticed a terrapin and king snake mutually interested in something, and upon looking closely our friend discovered that the terrapin was laying eggs in a hole, while the snake was coiled around so as to bring its head in the hole, receiving the eggs as fast as they were deposited.—Manatee Advocate.

His Roommate.

A gentleman who is not so young as he was once recalls with amusement some of his experiences while keeping school in certain rural districts, it seems to him, long, long ago. Accustomed as he was to the comforts and refinements of a well kept house, he found it difficult to adapt himself to the peculiar system of housekeeping in vogue in the districts where he taught.

At one of his first boarding places he was given an uncarpeted and untidy little bedroom on the ground floor of an old farmhouse, very much out of repair because of the shiftlessness of its owner.

Ushered into this uninviting room, and being told to make himself "right to home," the young teacher, tired and homesick, went at once to bed, and was almost asleep when he heard a sound as of some one moving about under the bed.

He was not a very brave young man, and felt himself poorly prepared to cope with a possible desperado. For a long time therefore, he lay perfectly still.

Once more he heard the noise. He could bear the suspense no longer. He got up, lighted his candle and knelt down to look under the bed, which had an old fashioned valance of purple calico around it. Hardly had he lifted this valance when the concealed foe made a furious onslaught upon him, knocked him heels over head and bruised him badly.

The candle was put out and the frightened teacher roared lustily for help. In rushed the farmer and his wife, to discover their guest sprawling on the floor, while his foe stood in a corner of the room, shaking his head defiantly as if he meditated a second attack.

"Oh, I'm almost killed!" gasped the teacher. "There was a man or some awful animal under the bed."

"Twa'n't no man," said the farmer, grinning in a very unsympathetic manner; "twas only our old billy goat. I'd ort to 'ave told you that he always sleeps under this bed in this room. He wouldn't 'ave touched you if you'd paid no 'tention to him! Git back under there, you rascal, and lay still!"

He gave the goat a kick as he spoke, and it disappeared under the bed. The teacher [illegible] the next day he sought a more congenial boarding place.—

ton market. She carried a Russia leather notebook with a gold pencil and the most artistic little willow basket imaginable. "Oh, the dear little piggies!" she exclaimed, walking up to where a number of pigs were incarcerated. "How much are they a pair?"

"Eight and a half, mum," said the butcher.

"Isn't that pretty dear?" she asked timidly. "I guess I'll take some oysters instead," she said, walking over to where the men were busy opening the emblems of silence. "I want some oysters sent up—escalloped oysters," she said, "with plenty of raisins in them."

"Oh, those lovely purple pumpkins!" she said, walking over to a stand where a lot of Edam cheese was displayed.

"I'll take four of these. I know it's plebeian, but Reginald does like pumpkin pies."

"Are all hams yellow like these?" she asked, pointing to a counter full.

"No, miss; that's only the cover," said the man in charge.

"Those lovely pink onions will just match my china. How do you sell them a dozen?"

"Seventy-five cents a bushel," said the huckster.

"Send me up two bushels," she said.—New York Times.

The Indifferent Elevator Boy.

"Down!" came in a peremptory, dignified tone from the lips of a tall, slender gentleman on the fourth floor of the Mills building just as a descending elevator car shot past that floor. The boy who was running the car with a deft twist of his wrist checked its course, brought it back and pushed open the iron latticed door with a bang. Then, as if sorry that he had been betrayed into an act of courtesy, he sharply remarked to the waiting gentleman, "Come, step lively." The gentleman, who was considerably past the middle age, apparently paid no attention to the boy's rudeness. He stepped deliberately and unconcernedly into the car, and at once became an object of interest to the other passengers. He was attired in a loose fitting suit of the finest black broadcloth and had a rusty silk hat set well back on his head. When the car reached the ground floor he stepped out in an abstracted way and started up Broad street. "Do you know who that gentleman is?" asked one of the other passengers of the elevator boy. "Naw; who is he?" asked the boy with an air of indifference.

"That is Senator William M. Evarts."—New York Times.

No Names.

There was only one black man in the village, and the old black woman who lived with her daughter on the outskirts was determined not to betray one of her own race when she went to the justice of the peace to complain of the thefts about her place.

"Fust it's a chicken, 'n' odder time eggs; las' night foh de moon was up came a rattlin' roun' de woodpile, and, jedge, I can't spare no wood, and you can done fin' some ways to perfect de innahcent."

"But you must suspect some one, Mrs. Jefferson," said the justice.

The Egg a Remedy for Dysentery

The egg is considered one of the best remedies for dysentery; beaten up slightly, with or without sugar, and swallowed at a gulp, it tends, by its emollient qualities, to lessen the inflammation of the stomach and intestines, and by forming a transient coating on these organs to enable nature to resume her healing sway over a diseased body. Two or at most three eggs per day would be all that is required in ordinary cases, and since eggs are not merely medicine, but food as well, the lighter the diet otherwise, and the quieter the patient is kept, the more certain and rapid is the recovery.—Hall's Journal.

The Ships of Spain.

Our nearest rival for the sixth place is Spain. She has just completed the Pelayo, of about 10,000 tons, and is building six others of 7,000 tons each. Spain possesses no old armor clads worthy of mention. The finances of the country are not such as to render it likely that she will ever amount to much as a naval power, though her present force may be considerably augmented.—New York Herald.
